

Joining us as priest in charge will not mean starting from ground zero. Many programs are in place and operating successfully. Some were created in the vacuum created by a lack of a priest, and some are ongoing from year one. Those begun recently to fill the vacuum are not set in stone and can be continued, altered or discontinued. Most of them involve fellowship and opportunities to learn. Some of the ongoing programs like the altar guild and lay visitors need development while others like flowers, house and grounds, food pantry, and lectors are operating successfully.
